Career Decision Making (Contemporary Topics in Vocational Psychology Series)

Keeping up with new developments in vocational psychology is important to both psychological practitioners and researchers. This volume is devoted to presenting and evaluating important advances in the field of career decision making, development, and maturity. More specifically, it identifies, reports, and evaluates significant contemporary developments in vocational psychology and provides both professional workers and students with an informed understanding of the progress taking place in the field. The history and theory of the assessment of career development and decision making are explored as well as advances in career planning systems. An expanded context for the study and evaluation of career development variables is also described.
